Co-creating Research Questions in an Inclusive Citizen Science approach:
 Informal caregivers, human resource advisors, and researchers from TOPFIT Citizenlab collaborated to co-create research questions related to "preventively supporting the sustainable employability of informal caregivers in healthcare." Working online - a novel experience for many of the participants - resulted in three successful co-creation sessions:
 - co-analysis by building an affinity diagram using quotes from interviews
 - creating scenarios for potential solutions
 - describing the constraints that hinder the implementation of effective solutions.
